The South Carolina Comprehensive Control Plan was made possible by the work of dedicated individuals who volunteered their knowledge, their energy, and their time to promote an integrated and comprehensive approach to cancer prevention and control. The sections in this plan were written by teams from each the six South Carolina Cancer Alliance (SCCA) Task Forces. Additionally, two special work groups on health disparities and genetics addressed those issues. This process resulted in broad member input and opportunities for diverse points of view to be aired and included. In addition, six community forums were held around the state to gain input from local community leaders and to learn how the plan could be implemented at the local level. This was truly an inclusive process involving input from literally hundreds of South Carolinians.

A core planning team guided the process of completing the plan and provided general direction in completing time lines and reviewing progress. The core planning team was organized by the Department of Health and Environmental Control (DHEC), which provided staff support. Funding was provided through support from the state of South Carolina and federal funding from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Comprehensive Cancer Control Program.

The SC Comprehensive Cancer Control Plan will guide the activities of the SC Cancer Alliance to address the burden of cancer in the state. In addition to printed copies, the plan will be posted on the SCCA web site (<http://www.sccanceralliance.org/>) and will be updated as objectives are met and/or revised, best practices evolve, and new research emerges.
